

FIND PEACE IN FRATERNITY OF ENTIRE WORLD

Father and Son Movement Should Be Emulated.

TO MAKE UNIVERSAL

Y. M. C. A. to Co-operate With Peace Move Workers at Geneva Conference,
Says W. W. Head.

Associated Press.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 16.—The Father and Son Movement, developed in America where it has become a recognized institution, is spreading over the whole world. This was indicated today in a speech by Walter W. Head of Omaha, chairman of the National Father and Son Committee of the United States and also president of the American Bankers' Association, before the World's committee of the Y. M. C. A. "More than 20 nations," he said, "observe Father and Son Week. In the United States alone upwards of 3,000,000 of fathers and sons joined in events during the past year."

The Father and Son Movement originated at a Y. M. C. A. banquet of fathers and sons at Providence, R. I., in 1907, Mr. Head stated. He said further:

"Only as the fundamental principles of world brotherhood are recognized and accepted by the peoples of the world, can we ever hope for world peace. The men who are to direct the destiny of the nations of the world during the next generation are now the young lads who are in our homes today. What greater privilege has a man than to give of himself as a companion, teacher, advisor, and as an inspiration to his son, who tomorrow steps into responsibilities the significance of which we cannot conceive."

"Every man, whether or not he bears the physical relation of father and son, should give serious consideration to his own life, the ideals for which he stands, that his example will always prove to be an inspiration to the boy life of today in encouraging the spirit of world brotherhood."

"In the United States we believe it most appropriate to observe National Father and Son Week at that period of the year when Armistice Day comes. This has proven to be an opportune time not only to pay honor and respect to the millions of fathers and sons who gave their lives for the ideal of world brotherhood, but a time for the fathers and sons who survive to re-consecrate themselves to life for that same great objective, world brotherhood, world peace. We are, therefore, planning for the observance this year to come during the week of November 9-16."

The World's Committee of the Y. M. C. A. is planning to cooperate in making the Father and Son Movement universal. Details are to be worked out by the Boys' Work Division staff of which E. M. Robinson, former senior secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Work in America, is now secretary.

The Earl Hawk Stock Company, scheduled to have exhibited its talent here all this week, has not yet arrived. The Jellico Carry-on, and reports are to the effect that the company disbanded at Middlesboro, Ky., on account of it being such a dull season for shows. They have sent their tents and fixtures to their winter quarters in Florida.

Several of whom the writer was one, had complimentary tickets for the week, which we will sell to anyone offering a good bid; but we do not recommend them as being worth a great deal now.

WAR MOTHERS OF KY. FAVOR PLANS

Organization Approves National Defense Day and National Preparedness.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 16.—The Kentucky Chapter of the National American War Mothers, affiliated with the National Council of Women of the United States, today endorsed National Defense Day, September 12.

"The Kentucky Chapter of the National American War Mothers endorse fully September 12, as the Day of Defense," Mrs. William G. Hearn, Frankfort, State War Mother, declared.

"We feel that the day is one of preparedness and is the foundation of national security."

At the same time she made public a statement from First Vice State War Mother, Mrs. J. C. Lary, Winchester, Ky., National chairman of Americanization of the entire organization, endorsing the day.

The statement was the first declaration in Kentucky following Governor Field's proclamation of Wednesday in which he said, after a careful study that he endorsed America's citizen army, the national guard, and National Defense Day.

Mrs. Lary's statement read:

"To the War Mothers of America: 'To intrust our national guidance to those who love and seek war, would be a crime against humanity; to put the keeping of our independence in the hands of peace-at-any-price devotees, would be to invite disaster and stamp it 'Special Delivery.'"

Preparedness is neither a folly nor a crime; it is preparedness and a duty. 'Therefore, on National Defense Day, September 12, next, let us do all we can to show that we believe in preparedness as the surest means of preserving that which our forefathers left us as a priceless heritage."

Mrs. J. C. Lary,
National Chairman of Americanization."

SCHOOL VACATION IN WINTER TIME

Associated Press.

WINCHESTER, Ky., Aug. 16.—A new plan whereby students in county schools are to be given a mid-winter vacation, with correspondingly shorter summer vacations, is to be inaugurated in Clark county schools this winter.

Prof. Paris Aklin, superintendent of county schools, in announcing this departure from the usual period of instruction, declares that in his opinion it will materially increase attendance and insure the country student a good education.

"The greatest trouble in rural districts is that winter, when snow and ice are upon the ground, the student often finds it impossible to get to school," Prof. Aklin said. "Under the new plan, schools will be closed during the worst winter months."

Another feature pointed out was that the teachers, who ordinarily spend their vacations attending summer schools, may now take advantage of the mid-winter vacation and attend normal school there.

The Clark county schools under this new plan opened Aug. 4 and will continue in session five months, closing Dec. 19. On March 16 another school term will start and will run until June 8.

COURT RULES ON FEES OF CLERKS

Assistant Attorney General Rules Tax Board Should Give Good Fee.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Aug. 16.—The state tax commission should fix a reasonable fee for county clerk's service of making reports required of him, Assistant Attorney General Overton S. Hogan today ruled.

"We have learned from the tax commission that they have heretofore fixed the compensation for this service at fifteen cents to reach name reported," he declared in reply to request of County Court Clerk L. L. Calvert, Georgetown, for construction of one of the new laws. Calvert asked if the act will interfere with the reasonable compensation provided for services of clerks by the act of 1920.

"Upon an examination of the act of 1924, we find that it requires the same services of the clerk as the former law did require and about the only change made is to provide that the clerk shall render such services free of compensation. The new act is an amendment to the original act and a portion of the original act is re-enacted."

"We are of the opinion that the provisions of the new act do not apply to the county clerks now in office and that they will continue to receive the fifteen cents per name as their compensation until the end of their present term."

The assistant attorney referred to the Beilan inheritance law, approved by Gov. Fields, providing for a progressive tax on transfers of direct and collateral inheritances, amending many sections of the statutes.

Rep. William Burke Belknap, democrat, Goshen, Ky., a Yale man, and teacher, is professor of economics in the University of Louisville, and also well known over the country as a tax expert. His name is linked with several national tax associations.

The new inheritance law is one of the most eagerly ones drafted by any 1924 legislator. As finally passed it amends:

"An act relating to the collection of inheritance tax, requiring certain reports of county court clerks and imposing certain duties upon the state tax commission and otherwise designating the method of procedure in the collection of such tax," chapter 44, of the acts of the 1920 General Assembly.

"The local Salvation Army work has shown up well during the past year, according to reports from headquarters. For the first time since organization has existed here work in all departments, including Sunday School, corps cadets, junior legions, senior work, regular religious meetings, and social service work, has been carried on."

Pendulum Honors Go To German Inventor

Associated Press.

Wetzlar, Germany—History is all wrong when it credits Galilei with having invented the pendulum, according to Dr. Veltmann, keeper of the public archives of this city. In his opinion it was Jobst Bodeker of Warburg, Westphalia, who constructed the first centrifugal pendulum.

The instrument invented by Bodeker was made in 1578, while Galilei's pendulum is recorded as having been constructed in 1633. Bodeker's clock with pendulum was but short-lived, however. After being installed in the cathedral at Osnabruck it had to be nursed along from time to time by the inventor, and after his death it soon came to a full stop.

"I'll get you later," said the anonymous threat.

This anonymous written threat is reported to have been found at the home of H. C. Livesay, on Twenty-sixth street, which was robbed last night. A $2.50 gold piece which belonged to his child was stolen.

Mr. Livesay, in a sworn statement to authorities, claims that he believes the robber is the man who threatened him at Fern Lake recently.

He stated that a man appeared suddenly from the undergrowth bordering the lake and asked him to take a drink. He declined and the stranger said: "I will make you take one," and flourished a pistol.

When assistance arrived, the man who had sought to force his stimulants on Mr. Livesay fled, making some remarks about "getting" him later.

The robbery, occurring shortly after the episode at the lake, and the threatening note left in the ransacked house lead the victim to believe the marauder and the mysterious man at the lake are one and the same person.

Police investigated the case this morning and took possession of the anonymous note.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—August 15, 1925, is the date finally agreed upon for the evacuation of the Ruhr by the French. The Belgians also agree to evacuate all other towns in points outside the Ruhr which are not in the district under the treaty of Versailles.

As an example of good will, the French and Belgians are prepared, in accordance with the provisions of the compromise agreed upon, to withdraw French troops from Dortmund and the surrounding territory.

No agreement is yet reached relative to the quality of the Ruhr. The Germans are required to deliver as requested. This subject, still under discussion, will probably be settled at tonight's conference.

The Germans agree to the terms of the compromise but refuse to admit the legality of the occupation of the Ruhr.

Until the German Reichstag and the French Chamber of Deputies endorse the action of the London conference it will not be possible to have the final signature to the agreement.

only large German city that still exacts

In previous years there was a steady increase of hotel guests during May, June and July.

SHORTER HOURS IS BRINGING RESULTS

Elimination of Twelve-Hour Day In the Steel Industries Is Satisfactory.

Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The partial elimination of the twelve hour working day in the steel industry has brought results so generally satisfactory that neither manufacturers nor employees in the areas affected would consider a return to the longer hours prevailing prior to August 16, 1923.

Nevertheless, a large proportion of the men engaged upon basic steel processes still work more than ten hours a day, while the eight hour men generally work seven days a week, said a survey of steel labor conditions by S. Adele Shaw, made public today by the Cabot Fund. This fund has financed numerous independent researches in industrial problems, notably Prof. H. B. Drury's study of the twelve hour day in steel made in 1920.

The seven-day week in mills where continuous operation is the rule, which was partly eliminated during the depression of 1921, was re-established in 1922 and perhaps extended when the eight-hour day replaced the twelve hour day in many of these works, the report asserted. Moreover, there are many companies that in May, 1924 had failed to do away with the twelve hour shifts; independents had not made the change in eastern Pennsylvania and the Birmingham district independents had not completely installed the eight hour day, said the report.

Emphasizing the fact that the industry "has by no means gone to an eight-hour day and a six day week," the survey quotes compilations of the Federal Department of Labor for the pay period January 16 to 31, to the effect that on blast furnaces less than eight percent of the men work 48 hours or less a week, six per cent work 84 hours a week, and 32 per cent 60 hours. In the open hearth departments, according to the same authority, only four per cent work 48 hours a week or less while in the Bessemer Converters more than half the men work 48 hours a week.

More than one company is operating its blast furnaces, three shifts with no increase in the number of men over the two-shift operation," said the report. "Testimony is overwhelming to the effect that the movement toward shorter hours has had a beneficial effect on production."

The cost of the reduced hours is expected by many steel authorities to prove considerably less than the $35, 000,000 a year which the United States Steel Corporation estimated, the report asserted, because of the indirect beneficial results.

FRANKFORT, Aug. 16.—Figures received here today from the National ed 8,379.2 federal aid highways completed over the country. Nebraska showed the greatest work 604.6 miles;

Rhode Island the least with 6.6

Pool on Street In Loveland Is Unique Mirage

LOVELAND, Colo., Aug. 16.—A remarkable mirage appeared here recently on Fourth street, one of the principal thoroughfares. It took the shape of a deep pool of water in the middle of the street. When the story gained circulation, a crowd gathered at the scene. Motorists swerved to avoid the "pool," only to find on closer examination that the street was dry. Persons approaching the place from certain angles could see in the "water" the reflection of passing cars.

KENTUCKY MOTHER FINDS LOST SON

Associated Press.

MANILA, Aug. 16.—A letter from a mother in Danville, Ky., to the police department has been the means of locating a long lost son. Twenty-five years ago Frank Sapp enlisted in the army and came to the Philippines where he served during the insurrection. At the end of his enlistment he remained here, engaging in various occupations.

In her letter to the police department Mrs. Sapp wrote that her son had never written home since he enlisted in a volunteer regiment, but that she heard indirectly that he was in the Philippines in the lumber business.

The coast guard steamer, Pathfinder, which recently returned from an inspection trip to the Balabac Islands, brought news that Frank Sapp, an American, operated a sawmill on the island of Camiguin in the Babi-yau group and that he had constructed a number of rafts on which he transported the 77 natives from Balabac Island for safety. Sapp gave employment to the natives in his sawmill.

On the next trip of the Pathfinder to the Balabac mail from Sapp's mother will be sent to him. Meanwhile a letter from the police department is on its way to Mrs. Sapp, telling her that her son has been located.

SUICIDE NOT CAUSE DEATH OF MRS. MORS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 16.—An en-police announced today, by the testimony of a woman who says she heard and saw two men fleeing from the apartment occupied by Mrs. Mors and Kid McCoy, former pugilist, a few minutes after the shot was fired which ended the life of the wealthy divorcee Wednesday.

Kentuckians Supplied With Legislative Act

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 16.—
County and judicial officers are being supplied with 1,002 copies of the acts of the 1924 general assembly and 1,248 copies of volumes 107-108-109, Kentucky reports; Frank K. Kavanaugh, assistant state librarian, said today.

That number has been turned over to the contractor for shipment, he said.

County attorneys, county court clerks, state senators and representatives, have received one copy each of the acts, he said, as advance shipments, and shipments made today to justices of the peace, sheriffs, county judges and circuit court clerks.

The county clerks each receive one copy of the Kentucky Directory, 1923, prepared by Mr. Kavanaugh, who during the legislature was one of the Associated Press correspondents here.
The directory gives complete information about Kentucky's governmental

Under a senate resolution approved by Gov. Fields, the state librarian was authorized to purchase 500 copies of the directory for use of the state and county officials and members of the General Assembly.

Collins Leads American League in Base Stealing--Babe Ruth Drops to Even .400

Associated Press
CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Edward Townbridge Collins, veteran of nineteen campaigns in the American League, is making a determined bid for the American League honors as its most valuable player for 1924.

Collins, for ten years captain of the Chicago White Sox today is leading the league in base stealing with 33 thefts, and climbed from sixth to third place in batting within a week, going into third position with an average of .346. Babe Ruth, the famous Yankee, still is leading the parade, but dropped to an even .400 with Bill Fark of the White Sox second with .363. Cobb, Heilmann, and Speaker anchored in batting with Collins, Cobb ending into fifth place with .341, a point behind Jamieson of Cleveland. The average include games of Wednesday.

Collins led the American League in base stealing last season with a total of 19, and with the close of the 1924 season nearly two months away, hopes to equal, if not surpass, his performance of 1923.

Ruth crashed out two more homers and swelled his circuit drive total to 38. He has maintained an average of scoring better than a run a game, as he registered 114 times in 112 games. In cracking out 151 hits, the home run king has gone into a triple with Cobb and Rice of Washington.

Other leading hitters: Boone, Boston, .342; Goslin, Washington, .337; Heilmann, Detroit, .336; Sherry, Chicago, .335; Speaker, Cleveland, .333.

Frankie Fisk of the Giants continues to add to his run record, crossing the plate for a total of 84 tallies. Darnell increased his total base record to 241, his 165 hits including 23 doubles, 11 triples and 16 homers.

Jack Fournier, slugging first baseman of the Dodgers, with 21 circuit drives, is leading the home run hitters by a safe margin.

Other leading hitters: Wheat, Brooklyn, .342; Bresch, Cincinnati, .333; Roush, Cincinnati, .332; Harrier, Brooklyn, .330; Young, New York, .324; Fitch, New York, .323; Gansley, Chicago, .323; Blades, St. Louis, .323.

Johnny Neun, St. Paul's star first baseman, had a more profitable week than his teammate, Darnell, and Roney Brief of Kansas City, who have been pressing him for the batting honors of the American association. Neun added a couple points to his mark of a week ago, and as a result continues to lead with an average of .394. Darnell dropped twelve points, but retained his position as runner-up with .373, while Brief, despite his loss of eleven matches is holding third place with .368.

Elmer Smith of Louisville smashed out three homers during the week and ran his string up to 21. Reb Russell of Columbus, is his closest rival with 18. Brief has 15.

Neun in addition to setting the pace as a hitter is blazing the trail for the base stealers, with 43 thefts, an increase of five over a week ago. Other leading hitters: Earl Smith, Minneapolis, .356; Allen, Indianapolis, .352; Kirke, Minneapolis, .347; Murphy, Columbus, .342; M. Shannon, Louisville, .336; Elmer Smith, Louisville, .336; Grimes, Columbus, .335.

John Anderson, star slugger of Nashville, by cracking out three homers in the past week, tied the Southern association home run record of 22 established by Bersen of Birmingham in 1921.

The batting leaders are retaining their relative positions, although there has been a slight falling off in hitting. Smith of Atlanta with an average of .388 is on top with Carlisle of Memphis second with .378, a drop of five points. Guyon of Little Rock testing in third place with .371. Paschal of Atlanta broke away from Murray of Nashville for the honors as a run getter. Paschal has scored 105 times, while Murray crossed the plate 107 times.

J. Stewart of Birmingham, by stealing five bases, is far in front of the base stealers with 41 thefts.

Other leading hitters: Buffum, Atlanta, .349; Paschal, Atlanta, .342; Hawks, Nashville, .340; Niehaus, Chattanooga, .339; J. Anderson, Chattanooga, .339; J. Stewart, Birmingham, .337; R. Williams, Mobile, .333.

Jack Lelivelt, manager of Tulsa, and outfield Lamb of Tulsa are in dead heat for the batting honors of the Western League, with an average of .281. A week ago Lamb was crowning the pill for a mark of .256. Darning of Wichita, who has been plugging along in third place has a mark of .277, while Washburn, another Tulsa favorite, who holds the lead as a run getter with 126 tallies is tied for fourth place in batting with Miller of St. Joseph. Each is sitting .270.

Smith of Wichita, increased his record of stolen bases to 37, while Davis, Tulsa home run hitter, ran his total of fourbaggers to thirty-five. Other leading hitters: Butler, Wichita, .308; O'Brien, Davenport, .297; Davis, Tulsa, .293; Collop, Omaha, .288; Gungar, Denver, .286; Feller, Oklahoma City, .286.

Razen Cuyler, a National League youngster playing the outfield with the Pirates is in second place among the hitters, running up to Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinal star, and champion batter of the league. Cuyler, a former Southern leaguer is hitting .377, while Hornsby is topping him with .367, a gain of four points over 15 runs of a week ago.

Cuyler also is giving his teammate Max Carey, a fight for base stealing honors. The Southern flash has come along with such speed that he has topped Cliff Heathcote of the Cubs who was runner up to Carey a week ago. Cuyler has swiped 21 bases, to Heathcote's 20. Carey is leading with 28.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—By virtue of his achievements in the Olympic games Harold M. Osborne of the Illinois A. C. has won an enduring place among America's premier track and field athletes of all time. Osborne won two gold medals by his brilliant victories in the running high jump and decathlon at Paris, thereby reaching the zenith of a long and remarkable career.

The one man, aside from Osborne himself, to whom a lion's share of credit is due for the athlete's record is Coach Harry Gill, who has been training men at the University of Illinois for 20 years. Gill discovered and developed Osborne shortly after he arrived at the university, an obscure aspirant for honors in the world of sports.

Osborne, who possesses intercollegiate, National A. A. U., and Olympic trophies, won his first important title, the Western Conference high jump championship, only four years ago. He has suffered occasional reverses in this event since then but has remained supreme in the decathlon, his specialty. He registered his most praiseworthy achievements in this event at the Columbus Stadium a few weeks ago, not only winning the Olympic title but establishing a new world mark.

Says U. S. Will Import Foreign Meats

Associated Press
EDINBURGH, Aug. 16.—At the concluding session here of the Scottish cattle breeding conference when a review of the cattle situation of the world was under discussion, Major F. N. Wentworth, of Armour's Bureau, Chicago, said that the United States had already passed in contemplation the rate of production in sheep and mutton, and was at the last anxious point in beef.

He believed as the industrial population increased and while wage levels remained high it would be very possible within the next 15 years for the British colonies to export produce to the United States.

Major Wentworth said also he did not think the United States would permit a market for imported meat and bacon, but that America was certain to become a definite market for beef, sheep and lamb, and dairy products.

Alaskan Malamute Is Becoming Extinct

Associated Press
ANCHORAGE, Alaska.—The malamute dog, for many years the famed sled of the north, apparently is destined to go.

With the coming of railroads, dog teams were driven farther into the interior. And now the prevalence of reindeer herds and the growth of the market garden and the town-lot garden have caused restrictions to be drawn around the malamute until he is coming to be classed a nuisance in the more settled parts of southern Alaska.

The malamute had his genesis in the wolves and wild dogs of the north. All fowls and quadrupeds were his common prey. But when, in more modern days, a malamute began pulling down reindeer and the livestock of farmers, he was treated as a wolf and hunted down.

PARKS SHOULD BE GAME PRESERVES

Dr. Jilison Complete Survey Potential Park Sites for the State.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Aug. 16.—Any comprehensive system of state parks should include one or two sizeable tracts set aside as game preserves and bird sanctuaries, Dr. Willard Rouse Jilison, state geologist, declared today.

He completed investigation of another proposed park site and offered his recommendation to the newly created State Park Commission of which he is chairman.

Such action would be particularly fitting in Kentucky which at the time the first settlers came here, and for many years, thereafter, was widely known for its wealth and wild life, Dr. Jilison said.

And so he recommended "In Between the Rivers."

"Fortunately, although the original stock of many native species including the picturesque buffalo, the deer and bear are gone, and hunting and fishing has long since ceased to be the principal occupation of the Kentuckian, there is a tract in the 'Petrified' of Kentucky in southeastern Lyon county and western Trigg county which would be ideal for this purpose," he detailed. This region is situated west of the Cumberland and east of the Tennessee, and is known locally as "In Between the Rivers."

"The description is apt for at Grand Rivers where the Illinois Central railroad crosses this region on its way to Paducah, the Cumberland takes a gradual bend to the southwest and comes within three miles of meeting the Tennessee in its larger bend to the northeast."

"Although extensively cut over in early times when these low-grade ores were operated in a number of charcoal furnaces, the second and third growth timber with some fire protection has come on rapidly until what were at one time a succession of abandoned ridges and valleys is now almost a continuous forest."

"Ideally situated for this purpose it is used at the present time by the State Fish and Game Commission as a state preserve for deer and turkeys and other small fowl."

"The surface presents a variegated broken landscape with an average physical relief of about 200 feet. The underlying country rocks are bedded limestone principally of the Mammoth Cave group over which extends a blanket of unconsolidated sands and gravels of Cretaceous age."

URGE PLAYERS TO TRAIN IN WINTER

Neglect During Off Months Often Results In Collapse of Star.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—A different physical condition and lack of proper spring training causes the mid-season collapse of clubs, which, at the start of the season seemed certain pennant contenders, in the belief of Ban Johnson, president of the American League.

President Johnson said the present day condition process is all wrong and that a return to the old-time system, when players started to thoroughly harden themselves physically as early as the first of the year, would result in better baseball.

"In the old days players did not think of starting to play baseball in the spring until they were capable of standing it," he said.

"Cy Young and many others, in the old days, went to Hot Springs and other winter resorts, and by climbing, walking and running, developed their strength gradually. Then they started to play baseball and did not fall victims to 'spring horse' and other ailments."

They were down to weight and as hard as nails when it came time to start the actual practice.

"Today it seems to be the general practice of every player to start right in and practice baseball pitching, throwing, running, and batting with soft mounds and no what."

"That is all wrong. If they started to condition themselves slowly soon after the first of the year, they would be ready for practice when the training season started, and it would result in a better game."

U. T. C. Intending to "Mop Up" Southern

Tannery players are determined to annex the seals of the Southern Railway boys as they have so many others who have had the temerity to meet them on the diamond. The game will take place at the East End athletic park at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The Southern Railway team, formerly the Twenty-first street team, has not suffered a defeat this season but the U. T. C. nine declares that a similar statement could not be made, with any degree of certainty, after the final inning of the game tomorrow. The game promises to be interesting on account of the rivalry between the two popular industrial teams and the public is cordially invited to attend it.

Thaw Joins Church, Becomes Fireman in "Comeback" Fight

WINCHESTER, Va., Aug. 16.—

Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, once legally adjudged insane and mentally perverted, has determined to win a place in respectable society from which for years he had been excluded as a menace.

No more difficult spot in America for his battle with public opinion could have been found than Winchester, Va., the little city he has chosen as his future home.

This small town which nestles in the Blue Ridge at the head of the Shenandoah valley, the home of conservatism and stronghold of the first families of the Old Dominion, was shocked by the news that Thaw, released as cured from a Pennsylvania hospital for the insane, had purchased Kenilworth, for 150 years one of the famous valley's show places.

His advent already has torn the town into opposing factions, bids fair to wreck the leading church, has occasioned a demonstration of the hooded knights and precipitated a social war.

Thaw is in earnest about wanting to become a leading citizen. He has attended and seeks to join the Presbyterian church, subscribed to all the leading charities and enrolled in the Charles Rouse Volunteer Fire Department, a leading social organization.

The trouble started, when J. B. Russell, Union Bank president, church pillar and social leader, called on the Thaws. His visit opened the way for MacFaden and others and gave his enemies a chance to say he had allowed wealth to overcome his family reserve.

Mayor-elect Dr. J. E. Ward has tried to bridge the gap among the townsmen. He served notice Thaw must be given a square deal, but at the same time too great familiarity must be discouraged. He believes that "the prayers of the righteous avail much," but doesn't favor mixing them with prayers of the unimproved and untried.

That Kenilworth may not become the scene of city folk's high life or, like the Ku Klux Klan paraded to let the community know it intended to check up.

The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, hearing that Thaw was going to stock his farm with pigs, rabbits, chickens and other domestic beasts, took alarm. Mrs. Robert Ward, S. P. C. A. president recalled that Thaw was accused of biting rabbits, and set the society's 50 members on watch.

Miss Augusta Conrad made a visit to Kenilworth and saw a cat running about without a tail. Her excitement abated when it proved to be one of a bob-tailed variety. She has promised to have Thaw arrested if this city of 7000 souls which has animals on his place come to grief, never had the excitement fusing a street car nearly collapsed when directors of the Rouse Fire Company admitted the famous stranger. Every Virginia town prides itself on its fire companies. Now the Sarah Zane and Friendship companies are accusing the Rouse of taking in the rich Pittsburgher for the sake of his money.

J. H. Dunn, engineer, says if the new member can't make the grade and become a good smoke-eater, out he'll go, money or no.

Three country maids have offered to forsake the milk stool to become his bride. All day the curious besiege him for just a glimpse, a word or a signature in a name album.

The way he meets his problem is

LATEST PICTURE OF HARRY K. THAW.

Illustrated by an incident at the People's drug store. Two girls were slipping sodas when one said: "I'd love to see this man Thaw."

The other answered: "I wouldn't. I'd be scared to death. He might kill me."

Thaw stepped up, and touching the frightened one on the arm and said: "I'm Harry Thaw. I killed a man in a just cause and I have no regret. But I'll never harm anyone else—especially a little girl."

Everywhere he goes, the town gaze follows. He walks erect, with quick, nervous steps, his usual height, gray hair, deep-lined face and athletic figure marking him apart.

Behind him is the ever-faithful A. J. Connally, four years his personal attendant and bodyguard. Usually his secretary accompanies him on one side while his mother walks on the other.

It is she who will win the town. Though 82 years old, she still looks after her boy. Big, broad, white-haired, majestic woman, slightly bent by years and tribulation, she is still the grande dame of a great family.

Harry to her is still the spoiled child she's done so much to rear. He still flies into tantrums and she still soothes and mollifies him.

At the hotel he demands instant service. If it is delayed he curses like a trooper, stamps his feet or pounds his hands on table or desk. He's never still, but speaks nervously, his eyes roving and seldom resting long on any object.

MICHAELANGELO

By Franklin McDufer

It was a summer's afternoon When Michaelangelo, a golden-haired boy, Truant from Guirlandajo's workshop, stole

Among the gardens of the Medici. Rose petals fell; the laden wind blew down

The cypress lanes; the fountains breathed and stirred. Far off the hammers of the masons rang,

At work for the Magnificent, but he, Unheeding, with stern brows and ruffled hair

Surveyed a grinning faun's face fixedly. This, from a weathered block of marble, begged

As nothing worthy from workmen of the Duke's. His hand had carved.

Thus standing unaware, The Duke of Florence, the Magnificent, cent,

By chance directed, or by destiny, Came on him, and aroused him from his dream;

Said, "You have made this grinning rascal old. And left him all his teeth! Faith, know you not Old men are toothless?" Michaelangelo

Looked round, with startled eyes, and saw the Duke,

The Lord of Florence, the first superb, In scarlet cloak, and jeweled sword at thigh—

A moment gazed—then without answer turned Swiftly, and with three blows so surely cleft

A tooth out, that Lorenzo smiled, amazed; Asked the boy's name and trade, perceived the seal

Of light upon him, bid him dwell thenceforth An inmate of the palace, free to work

And study with that sky-searching band Of poets, painters, scholars, who shared the board

Of the great Duke, but served the arts alone.

BIBLE TRANSLATED TO INDIAN TONGUE

"Wowapi Wakon" Will Enable Sioux Indians to Read the Scriptures.

By Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 6.—An innovation in the printing of biblical history in the language of Indians, from the Teton Sioux tribe of the Pine Ridge reservation of South Dakota, has made its appearance in Cincinnati.

The work, which is the fruit of much painstaking and self-denying work on the part of its author, Rev. Eugene Boechel, S. J., who is stationed at St. Francis, South Dakota, came from the presses here with the distinction of being the first time that a history of the bible has been translated into an Indian language.

"Wowapi Wakon," is the name of the new book and this turned into the English language means "Bible History." Latin characters constitute the words, forming phonetically the language of the Teton Sioux.

About 3,000 copies of the work have been printed and are ready for distribution among the Sioux.

GERMAN WOMEN DENY WAR GUILT

Women's Clubs of Country Declare Government Not to Blame for War.

Associated Press

EISENACH, Germany.—The Amalgamated Women's Clubs of Germany have resolved that Germany was not to blame for the beginning of the war in 1914 and held a special meeting to devise ways and means of scientifically assembling material designed to prove their contention to the world.

The meeting attended by women from all parts of the republic, was held in the castle at Wartburg, where Martin Luther fought the devil while he was passing ten months under the friendly arm of the Elector of Saxony.

Franz Clara Mendel, president of the organization, in her opening address, asserted that the club women had made arrangements to give wide publicity to documents which tended to show that a secret understanding existed prior to 1914 between the Russian czar and other nations and with which Germany had no connection whatever. It was this treaty to these secret agreements, she continued, that the war was brought about.

The onus of starting the war had been put on Germany by the world at large, declared Frau Mendel, but the true work of the associated clubs would be to prove otherwise.

Gold Prospectors In Rhodesia Cause Stir

By Associated Press

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia, Aug. 6.—Gold prospecting is very active throughout Rhodesia and so keen are the prospectors in pegging out claims that eight of them slept throughout the freezing cold one night on the site of a dead miner's forfeited gold claim, known as Mick's Luck, near Essex Vale, at one time the home of the famous explorer F. C. Selous.

As soon as it was daylight there was a wild stampede among the men to erect the customary discovery notices. Motor cars had arrived for two of the competing amateurs, who apparently thought that first registration of a claim at the mines office in Bulawayo established a prior right to it.

These two men had a furious race to Bulawayo, covering the distance of 30 miles over the rough veldt road in 45 minutes.

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia, Aug. 6.—Gold prospecting is very active throughout Rhodesia and so keen are the prospectors in pegging out claims that eight of them slept throughout the freezing cold one night on the site of a dead miner's forfeited gold claim, known as Mick's Luck, near Essex Vale, at one time the home of the famous explorer F. C. Selous.

As soon as it was daylight there was a wild stampede among the men to erect the customary discovery notices. Motor cars had arrived for two of the competing amateurs, who apparently thought that first registration of a claim at the mines office in Bulawayo established a prior right to it.

These two men had a furious race to Bulawayo, covering the distance of 30 miles over the rough veldt road in 45 minutes.

SMOTHERING SPELLS

Lady Says She Suffered from a Burning Sensation, Headache, Dizziness, Until She Took Black-Draught.

Signal, Miss.—"For a year or longer I had indigestion, and had it bad," says Mrs. E. S. Holman, of this place. "Everything I ate hurt me. I would have burning in my stomach and smothering spells, and after meals feel right dizzy. My head would begin to ache, and I would want to lie down, but felt I couldn't for I would smother."

"Unless one has had such trouble, they don't know what it is. I was talking to a neighbor one day and told her how I had been affected. She told me it was indigestion and to try Black-Draught, which I did. I took a few large doses and then a pinch after meals, and for fully four months now I haven't had indigestion. I eat whatever I please and when I please, but keep up the Black-Draught—just an occasional dose."

"When you have a feeling of discomfort after meals, try the suggestion above. Thousands of
